Changes Are Many

State officials are quiet active and around Austin these days and a number of them are resigning to accept positions of higher rank, while some are resigning to run for office next year. Most all the resignations take effect on the first of the coming year and among them are: Attorney General Davidson and R. B. Cousins, their resignations having been announced before this and then comes another batch of changes under date of the 18th. of this month, as follows: A. M. Barton resigned the position of private secretary to Governor Campbell to become financial agent of the Texas penitentiary system, vice J. C. Haynes, resigned, and it is rumored that W. B. Townsend will resign the office of Secretary of State to become private secretary to the Governor.

Judge M. M. Brooks authorized the statement that he will resign from the Court of Criminal Appeals on Jan. 1, which is taken as a positive indication that he will continue in the race for Governor. He said he had contemplated resigning for a year, and that he would issue a formal statement within the next few days. It is believed in administration circles that when Judge Brooks resigns Felix J. McCord, Assistant Attorney General, will be appointed to succeed him, in which event Judge McCord will resign his present position. Judge McCord has already announced his candidacy for election to the office which Judge Brooks now holds. No suggestions have been made as to who may succeed Judge Brooks and Mr. Townsend in the event the program above mentioned is carried out. The contemplated resignation of Thomas B. Love from the office of Commissioner of Banking and Insurance was announced some time ago, and it is rumored that still other resignations are to be tendered within the next few months.

An unusual number of changes have taken place in the office of financial agent of the penitentiaries during the present administration. Benton McMillan, who was appointed in January, 1907, at the beginning of the Campbell administration, resigned nine months later. John W. Wright, who succeeded Mr. McMillan, quit the place in February of the present year, and his successor, J. C. Haynes, resigned yesterday. Mr. Barton will assume the duties of the financial agent's office at once. The services of the Corporation Audit Company, now examining the books of the penitentiary system for the Legislature's investigating committee, probably will be secured to check Mr. Barton in.

Gov. Campbell appointed Mr. Barton as his private secretary at the beginning of the administration and parts with his services in that capacity with considerable regret.

A Last Chance

Panhandle Herald: A nice young man about medium size, brown hair and eyes, came in our office Monday and wanted us to advertise for him a wife. He wants a wife who can cook good biscuits and pies, take in washing and keep house. We promised not to mention his name, but you can address him through the Herald. We will keep it quiet and no one but you and he will be the wiser. Girls, this is your chance. He does not care what you look like as long as you can comply with the requirements. This may be the last time. The lady who chooses him for her life partner must pay for this advertisement and also his subscription up to date. His picture will be sent to any address for 25c if the purchasers will promise not to show it.

Humph, he is not likely to get many proposals or sell many pictures. His kind are too common to attract much attention. The woods are full of young men willing for the women to do the work while they themselves do the loafing around. Besides, any girl who would deliberately marry a delinquent subscriber deserves no better fate. —State Press.

Railroad News

We have been informed by C. R. Hardy, local manager of the A. R. & E. P. Ry, that Mr. Kennedy has succeeded in having his lawsuit quashed and that work will be resumed at once on the building of the road. This lawsuit is a ruse on the part of some other railroad to get possession of this road for a song and put Mr. Kennedy out of business, but we have always had faith in Mr. Kennedy's project, and still believe he is the man that will build the road. It is the intentions of Mr. Kennedy at this time to complete the road from Altus through to Memphis just as fast as arrangements can be made. —Memphis Democrat.

H. O. Gossett who came here from Teague, Texas, several days ago, was joined by his family Saturday. Mr. Gossett is in the real estate business here and says that he expects to make his future home in Lubbock. While talking to an Avalanche representative Mr. Gossett became optimistic in regard to Lubbock's future and stated it as his belief that Lubbock would in a few years equal Dallas or Ft. Worth.

Railway Mail Service

Aspermont now has a railroad mail service. Doesn't that sound good? No more will we be compelled to stand around and wait for the belated hack or stage-coach only to learn that the river is up and "no mail tonight" or it has rained and the roads are so heavy that it will be midnight before the mail arrives. No, she will come in on schedule time, on the iron horse—provided the iron horse is on time—and will be met by Uncle Sims Avery, who will safely escort it to the postoffice, where we can call about the noon hour and get our mail, instead of at night. Another good feature about the new service will be the fact that there will not be such a jam at the office at mail time. —Aspermont Star.

A. P. Tatum, who lives near this city was in town Saturday with a couple of large turkeys, which he readily disposed of. The gobbler weighed 21 1-2 pounds and the hen turkey weighed 14 1-2 pounds, and netted the raiser $4.05. This is the kind of country that Lubbock is situated in, raise anything from mice to elephants.
